

Cambodge - Même un oiseau a besoin de son nid - Boeung Kak -

Écrit par Admin

Jeudi, 23 Août 2012 07:17 -

A multi-media slideshow presentation about the filling in of the Boeung Kak lake in central Phnom Penh. This development will see the forced eviction of over 4,250 families and will constitute the single largest displacement of people since Pol Pot evacuated Phnom Penh in 1975. Those evicted are offered hugely inadequate compensation deals which include being relocated to sites without running water, electricity, proper sanitation or healthcare, or access to work or education. The ...

Consultez la source sur Asie-forum-voyage.com: Cambodge - Même un oiseau a besoin de son nid - Boeung Kak -